Neighborcare Health

Julia is a student and works full-time as an in-home caregiver, often putting in overtime, but about half her paycheck goes to pay rent in Seattle. Julia's income fluctuates, so at times she is eligible for Apple Health--Medicaid and at other times she is ineligible. A Neighborcare Health eligibility specialist helped her through the process of enrolling and re-enrolling in healthcare—a good thing too because Julia's provider has recently helped her through some unexpected health challenges. Having the security of health care is important for Julia to be able to continue to pursue her goals in school and keep up with her busy schedule.
